PHIL ESPOSITO

Vice President and General Manager

Enthusiasm. If one word can sum up Phil Esposito's attitude since being appointed Vice President and General Manager of the Rangers on July 14, that is it.

"Every move will be for one goal: to bring the Stanley Cup to New York," says Esposito, adding, "I was fortunate to experience the thrill of winning the Stanley Cup twice as a player, and I will dedicate myself and the entire organization to producing a championship team."

There is no doubt that Esposito's extensive hockey background will be an aid in his new challenge. A member of the Hockey Hall of Fame after 18 stellar National Hockey League seasons, he played his final six years with the Rangers after four with the Chicago Blackhawks, beginning in 1963-64, and eight with the Boston Bruins, who he helped lead to Stanley Cup championships in 1970 and 1972. Traded to the Rangers in November, 1975, he led the team in scoring in each of his four full seasons with the club and played a major role on the last Ranger team to reach the Stanley Cup finals in 1979.

His 717 career goals in 1282 regular games are second only to Gordie Howe's 801, and his 1590 points rank him third all-time. In addition, he added 61 goals and 76 assists in 130 playoff games for 137 points, putting him in ninth place on the all-time postseason scoring list.

Esposito became the first player in NHL history to score 100 points in a season during the 1969-70 campaign with 49 goals and 77 assists for 126 points, and two seasons later set single-season standards of 76 goals and 152 points which would stand for over a decade until surpassed by Wayne Gretzky.

Twice the recipient of the Hart Memorial Trophy as the NHL's Most Valuable Player, five times the NHL's leading scorer, and eight times an NHL All-Star, he retired as an active player in January, 1981 to become an assistant coach with the Rangers. He joined Madison Square Garden Network as a television color commentator in the fall of 1981 and served in that capacity until accepting his current post.

If the first six weeks of his tenure are an indication of things to come, Ranger fans can look forward to cheering on an exciting club displaying the same dedication and drive that Esposito does. Obtaining Kelly Kisio, Lane Lambert and Jim Leavins from Detroit, Walt Poddubny from Toronto, signing highly coveted free agents Mike Donnelly and Norm Maciver, from the college ranks, and goaltender Doug Soetaert and right wing Lucien DeBlois, fresh from a Stanley Cup championship with the Montreal Canadiens, are but a few of the efforts he made during his first few weeks on the job to mold his kind of team, one that will work hard and show the kind of character necessary to play winning hockey.

And it is the Ranger fans for whom Esposito is making this positive change. "There are no better fans in hockey," he asserts. "The Rangers and the management are working for you. And, we're gonna be there!"

Phil and his wife Donna reside in Mount Kisco, NY.

TED SATOR

Head Coach

One season behind the Ranger bench, one trip to the Prince of Wales Conference Finals of the Stanley Cup Playoffs, Ted Sator's old-fashioned work ethic paid off in his rookie season as he led the Rangers to resounding playoff victories over both Philadelphia and Washington. The dramatic coming-together of the Rangers at season's end was a clear victory for Sator's coaching disciplines, a victory Ted plans to build upon in 1986-87.

"We look forward to carrying the level of play and intensity we established during last year's playoffs into the new season," commented Sator, whose defense-oriented coaching philosophies helped the club cut their goals against from an all-time Ranger high of 345 in the 1984-85 season to 276 last season, the third lowest team total in the NHL.

Although last season was his first as a head coach in the NHL, Sator's qualifications are impressive and many. After playing hockey for Bowling Green University, where he graduated Magna Cum Laude in 1972 with a degree in health and physical education, he went on to play one season for the New York Raiders of the World Hockey Association. In 1973, he returned to his Alma Mater to pursue his Master's degree while he served as assistant coach on the hockey team.

He then traveled to Sweden, where he coached his teams to championships in each of his five seasons, three with Vaxjo HC and two with Rogle BK. He returned to America to become assistant coach of the Philadelphia Flyers under Mike Keenan, and helped guide the club to an appearance in the Stanley Cup finals during his only season there. He was named coach of the Rangers on June 19, 1985.

Sator, a power skating expert, is no stranger to European and Russian training techniques. He was one of 10 American coaches selected to attend a three-week Canadian-USSR training clinic in Moscow, and in April of 1984 he became the first American to be invited to attend the Czechoslovakia National Team Symposium on training techniques.

Since 1974, he has been Head Ice Instructor and Director of the NHL Conditioning Program at the Huron Hockey School in Waterloo, Ontario, where he serves with his Ranger assistants, Jack Birch and Reg Higgs, during the summer. Hockey—and success—have clearly been an integral part of Ted Sator's life, and more of the same is clearly in store now that he calls New York home and the Rangers his team.

Ted, a native of Utica, New York, lives with his wife Susanne in Port Chester, New York.

JACK BIRCH

Assistant Coach

If he is not watching videotapes of the Rangers' next opponent, or scouting a game in person, then Jack Birch is probably sitting in his office in Rye, New York entering data into his computer system.

Birch, who watches all Rangers' games from high above ice level, is constantly relaying information to Reg Higgs on the bench via walkie-talkie.

A native of Peterborough, Ontario, Birch, 32, was head coach of the University of Waterloo for three years and head coach of McMaster University for one year before joining the Rangers for the 1985-86 season.

Jack, who graduated from Waterloo in 1978 with a degree in kinesiology, obtained his Masters in the same subject in 1980. He has been the Assistant Director of the National Hockey Development Institute, where his responsibilities included the hiring of elite level coaches and the organization of the Memorial Cup Seminar, Level IV coaching clinics and the Ontario Midget Development Camps. He has written and spoken extensively on numerous hockey subjects, from the role of scouts in hockey, to the relationship of on-ice aggression to overall performance.

Jack and his wife, Laurie Elaine, are expecting their first child in October. The Birchs live in Dundas, Ontario.

JOE BUCCHINO

Assistant to the General Manager

Promoted this season to the position of Assistant to General Manager Phil Esposito, Joe Bucchino is the Rangers' man for all seasons.

A native of Boston, Massachusetts, Bucchino is clearly the man who does it all. In addition to handling most of the Rangers' travel arrangements, Joe also assists Esposito in all player transactions, player contracts, scouting and evaluating every player in the Rangers' organization. Joe, 34, is also responsible for the coordination of the entire scouting staff and the computer scouting system.

Getting his start as a trainer with the Boston Bruins in 1974, he moved to the Rangers as Assistant Trainer in 1978 and since that time has moved up the ladder step by step. From Assistant Trainer to Head Trainer to Staff Assistant to Administrative Assistant to Manager of Team Operations to the position he now holds, Joe has proven to be one of the most important people in the organization.

This past summer, Joe managed the Ron Greschner Hockey Camp for the second consecutive year and in the winter time he will teach a course on sports management in the continuing education program in Pleasantville, New York. In addition, he hosts a weekly talk show heard over WVIP radio in Mount Kisco, NY.

Joe and his wife, Iris, live in Pleasantville with their two-year old son, Andrew Joseph. The Bucchinos are expecting another child, due in February.

ED GIACOMIN

Goaltending Coach and Special Assignment Scout

After 11 years away from New York, Ed Giacomin, one of the most popular players in Rangers' history, is back home. This time, instead of being the Rangers' number one goaltender, he is goaltending coach and special assignment scout.

Ed is teaching and instructing all goaltenders in the organization. In addition, he will scout upcoming opponents or players in the Rangers' system.

Giacomin, 47, played for more than 10 years with New York, posting a record of 266-169-90 with a 2.73 goals-against average. The native of Sudbury, Ontario, registered 50 shutouts in his Ranger career (49 in the regular-season and one in the Stanley Cup Playoffs), still a club record.

Following his career with the Rangers, Ed played two more seasons with the Detroit Red Wings, retiring in December of 1977. A veteran of 610 National Hockey League contests, Giacomin ended his career with 289 wins, 206 losses, 97 ties and a 2.82 average.

After winding up his active career, Giacomin went on to serve the Rangers, Islanders, and Red Wings in a variety of assistant coaching positions. Ed also served for four years as head coach at Brother Rice High School in Detroit.

Giacomin, who shared the Vezina Trophy with teammate Gilles Villemure in 1970-71, resides in Bloomfield Hills, Michigan, with his wife Marg, and their three children, Mark, David and Nancy.

REG HIGGS

Assistant Coach

Always on the move with head coach Ted Sator behind the Rangers' bench, Reg Higgs has the valuable role of coordinating the club's defensive play and special teams during games. In addition, Higgs assists Sator with all on-ice preparations.

Before joining the Rangers prior to the 1985-86 season, Higgs, 43, was head coach of the University of Regina Cougars for nine years, and posted a record of 131-62-1. Reg led the Cougars to four Great Plains Athletic Conference championships and in 1980 the team earned a berth in the Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union finals (Canada's equivalent of the NCAA). In 1982, Reg was named the Canadian University Coach of the Year.

Higgs, who played college hockey at the University of Western Ontario, has been an instructor at the Huron Hockey School, along with head coach Ted Sator and fellow assistant Jack Birch for 12 years. Reg was also a talent evaluator for the 1984 Canadian Olympic Team and an assistant coach for the Canadian Olympic Team in games against Sokol Kiev of Russia in 1982-83. He holds the highest CAHA coaching certification, Level V. The native of Dresden, Ontario, has a Ph.D. in educational psychology from the University of Minnesota.

Reg is married to former Canadian golf champion Sue Hilton, and has two boys, Jake and Greg. He lives in Regina in the off-season.

Born: Dec. 16, 1960
Melrose, Massachusetts
Off-Season Home:
Port Chester, New York

1985-86: Showed tremendous improvement last season as he emerged as one of the Rangers steadiest performers . . . Increased his goal output from seven in 1984-85 to 24, second most on team . . . Missed only one (Oct. 19) of Rangers 96 contests and recorded club's only hat trick of campaign on Nov. 20 at the Garden against the Toronto Maple Leafs . . . Also contributed three two-goal efforts and registered at least five shots on goal in a single contest on five different occasions . . . Notched six power play goals, two shorthanded scores and was New York's leading scorer in season series against Quebec, Washington and Winnipeg . . . Enjoyed an outstanding playoff, finishing second on the team with six goals and nine assists for 15 points . . . Was leading scorer in Philadelphia series with two goals and six assists for eight points . . . Tallied twice in the fourth game of Washington series, including the winner at 2:40 of overtime.

CAREER: Obtained from St. Louis Blues along with Larry Patey for Dave Barr and a 1984 draft choice and joined Rangers following 1984 Olympics . . . Appeared in nine games with New York, scoring his first NHL goal on his initial shot, March 10 at Edmonton, against Grant Fuhr . . . Finished his four seasons at Yale as school's all-time leading scorer with 155 points in 103 games . . . Selected as Bulldog's MVP his last two seasons and in his senior year he was an All-East and consensus All-America as well as winning All-Ivy League honors . . . Took part in three National Sports Festivals, 1980-81—1982-83, playing for teams which won Gold Medals each year . . . Named a Hobey Baker Award finalist after senior year . . . Played in six Olympic games at Sarajevo, Yugoslavia, getting a goal and two assists . . . Has accumulated 32 goals as a Ranger, 16 at home and 16 on road, while showing his versatility playing all three forward positions and spending considerable time as a defenseman.

PERSONAL: Big, tough and aggressive, he has racked up 194 penalty minutes in 160 games with Rangers, including a team leading 111 last season . . . Was an economics major and a B+ student at Yale . . . Had a busy off-season: working for Bear-Stern brokerage firm on Wall Street, making numerous appearances for Rangers and playing in Molson Slo-Pitch softball tournament . . . New York Mets fan . . . Was a shortstop in college, playing behind Mets' pitcher Ron Darling . . . Second player in Ranger history to wear No. 13 . . . First was right wing Jack Stoddard in 1951-52 and 1952-53 . . . Married: wife, Helen.

HOW ACQUIRED: St. Louis' fourth round choice, 75th overall, in 1980 Entry Draft. Traded from St. Louis to New York with Larry Patey for Dave Barr and Rangers' 1984 third round choice in Entry Draft, March 5, 1984.

1985-86: Completed his college career in a spectacular fashion, finishing with 59 goals and 38 assists for 97 points in only 44 games . . . By scoring 59 times, he set a single-season goal scoring record for Michigan State and the Central Collegiate Hockey Association . . . In the NCAA Championship series, he tallied the game-winning goal against Harvard to help the Spartans capture the title and was selected Most Valuable Player . . . Named a first team All-America and was named the Hockey News College Player of the Year . . . Was a finalist for the Hobey Baker Award as college player of the year . . . Had recorded only two power plays goals in his first three years at Michigan State, but last season, 27 of his 59 goals were scored with a man-advantage and five of them were game-winners.

CAREER: Graduate of Livonia Franklin High School in Detroit where he gained All-State honors . . . Prior to entering Michigan State he led Waterford Lakers and entire Detroit Jr. A League with 48 goals and 64 assists for 112 points . . . Registered his first college goal on Dec. 17, 1982 against Lake Superior State and his initial career hat trick in 1984-85 also came at the expense of LSS . . . Really developed his tremendous scoring touch last season with his 59 goals topping his previous three years goals (51) combined . . . In 1984-85, during the Spartans record-setting 22-game winning streak he scored in 17 of the contests while accumulating 34 points (20-14-34) . . . In his four-year career at Michigan State, he appeared in 156 games, scoring 110 goals and 86 assists for 196 points.

PERSONAL: Had also considered offers from Chicago and Detroit before signing with the Rangers as a free-agent . . . Opportunistic left winger, rarely misses when given a chance in close to net . . . Played primarily on a line with Joe Murphy last season, the player chosen (by Detroit) as the first overall pick in the June amateur draft . . . Was also college teammate of Rangers Kelly Miller for three years . . . Wore uniform number 14 as a Spartan . . . Single.

HOW ACQUIRED: Signed as a free agent by Rangers, August 15, 1986.

1985-86: Spent almost the entire campaign as a center reaching the 20-goal plateau for the fourth time in his Ranger career and the first since the 1980-81 season . . . Served as team captain for three quarters of the season while Barry Beck was injured . . . Notched his 12th career two-goal game on Nov. 9 at Minnesota and recorded six two-assist performances . . . Achieved several personal milestones during the season . . . in date order: his 500th NHL point on Nov. 8 at Winnipeg with an assist on Jan Erixon's goal; appeared in his 700th NHL game on Nov. 29 at Washington; tallied his 50th career power play goal on April 2 against Philadelphia . . . Split goal total right down the middle, 10 at Garden and 10 on the road . . . In the playoffs, Greschner scored three goals in the Flyer series, including two in the third game 5-2 victory at the Garden, but suffered a broken bone in his right hand in game five of Philadelphia series and did not appear in the rest of the playoffs.

CAREER: Selected by the Rangers in the second round of the 1974 Amateur Draft from the New Westminster Bruins of the WCHL . . . Was captain of his junior team and set league record for points (103) by a defenseman in 1973-74 . . . Played just seven games with Providence of AHL before making NHL debut in 1973-74 . . . Set Ranger record for assists (37) by a rookie defenseman which was broken in 1981-82 by Reijo Ruotsalainen (38) . . . Became the highest scoring Ranger defenseman in history on November 11, 1981 when his assist on Dave Silk's goal brought his career total to 379, one more than Brad Park accumulated as a Ranger . . . Shoulder separations sidelined him for parts of '78-79 and '84-85 seasons and back miseries cost him considerable playing time in '81-82 and '82-83 campaigns . . . Now has 170 career goals (85 at home, 85 on the road), 14th most in Ranger history, 373 assists rank him fifth on New York's all-time list and 757 games played is seventh in club history.

PERSONAL: Born and raised in Goodsoil, Saskatchewan, where his father ran the local hotel . . . Now owns a farmhouse situated on 120 acres in upper New York State . . . Wife, model Carol Alt, has appeared on the cover of over 400 magazines . . . Vacationed in Germany, Switzerland and France during summer . . . Owns and operates Ron Greschner Hockey Camp which ran for three weeks in July and required "Gresch" to put in many 15-hour days . . . Has participated in Mobil Big Apple Games last four years . . . Commutes to and from Ranger games and just about any place else in his jeep.

HOW ACQUIRED: Obtained in Amateur Draft, June, 1974; second round choice, number 32 overall.

1985-86: Opened the season with the Hershey Bears of the AHL notching 22 goals and 17 assists in 32 games before his recall by Rangers on Jan. 25 . . . Placed at right wing on a line with Bob Brooke and Ron Greschner, he did not score in his first four outings with New York, but went on a scoring rampage starting with his goal on Feb. 5 in St. Louis . . . Accumulated at least one goal in seven consecutive matches (10 goals during this stretch) longest goal scoring streak by a Ranger since Rod Gilbert's seven-game goal scoring effort in 1976 . . . Tallied 20 goals in his final 24 outings, including six two-goal performances . . . 11 of his 20 goals were scored on road, 10 were the Rangers' first score of the game and eight were go-ahead tallies . . . New York's leading scorer in playoffs with a career post-season high of 17 points (eight goals, nine assists) . . . His eight goals tied Ranger record for one playoff year as did his four power play scores . . . Leading scorer in the Washington series with five goals and five assists.

CAREER: Pittsburgh's first choice (eighth overall) in the 1974 Amateur Draft from the Sorel Blackhawks where in his final season (1973-74) he totaled a remarkable 251 points with 94 goals and 157 assists . . . Was runnerup in the balloting for rookie of the year in first season with Penguins when he finished with 31 goals and 37 assists for 58 points . . . At age 20, in 1975-76, he scored 53 goals for Penguins, becoming the youngest 50-goal scorer in NHL history until Wayne Gretzky broke his mark in 1980 . . . Also registered 50 goals in 1979-80 with Montreal becoming first player in NHL history to score 50 goals with two different teams . . . Signed as a free agent by New York in 1983, he went on to score 48 goals, only two short of Vic Hadfield's club record of 50 set in 1971-72 . . . Scored two goals in the 1984 NHL All-Star game for the victorious Wales conference . . . Has 13 career hat-tricks (three with Rangers), 103 lifetime power play goals and 34 game-winners . . . 53 of his 92 goals as a Ranger have been scored on the road.

PERSONAL: Exciting, spirited player, one of the NHL's most dangerous offensive performers . . . Nicknames "Lucky Pierre," "Pepe" . . . Roomed with Ranger season-goal scoring leader Vic Hadfield while with Pittsburgh . . . Is the youngest of 10 children . . . Excellent golfer, he also enjoys tennis and fishing . . . Married: wife, Cindy.

HOW ACQUIRED: Pittsburgh's first round choice, eighth overall, in 1974 Amateur Draft. Traded from Pittsburgh to Montreal with Peter Marsh for Pete Mahovlich and Peter Lee, November 29, 1977. Traded from Montreal to Hartford in exchange for a switch in first round Draft selections in 1984 Entry Draft, Hartford's second round choice in 1984 Entry Draft and a switch in third round choices in 1985 Entry Draft, December 21, 1981. Signed as a free agent by Rangers, September 13, 1983.

1985-86: Member of last season's Stanley Cup Champion Montreal Canadiens . . . Appeared in 23 games turning in an 11-6-2 record, with a 2.67 goals-against average as Patrick Roy's backup . . . Fashioned an .897 save percentage and his three shutouts tied him with John Vanbiesbrouck for the third most in the NHL . . . Registered his shutouts at the expense of Los Angeles, stopping 22 shots, Vancouver, turning away 26, and the Islanders making 21 saves . . . Was sidelined for a month late in the season with strained ligaments in both knees, returning to the lineup on March 17 . . . Faced the Rangers once last season, a 2-2 tie on Nov. 16 at the Forum . . . Was 3-2-2 in seven starts against Patrick Division teams . . . Was 6-2-2 during the first half of the season and 5-4-0 in second half play.

CAREER: Will be starting his second tour of duty with the Rangers . . . Originally drafted by New York in the 1975 Amateur Draft and went on to play parts of six seasons with the club posting a 33-33-13 record in 90 games with a 3.88 average . . . Was traded to Winnipeg on Sept. 8, 1981 and after three seasons with the Jets he was dealt to Montreal on October 9, 1984 . . . In 271 lifetime games, the 11-year NHL veteran has a record of 108-96-40 with a 3.90 goals-against average . . . Career high for wins in one season was the 19 recorded in 1982-83 with Winnipeg . . . Split his first six professional seasons between New York and the American Hockey League . . . His only Ranger shutout came on Feb. 6, 1977, when he handled 36 shots by the Islanders in a 4-0 victory at Madison Square Garden . . . Played four seasons of junior hockey with the Edmonton Oil Kings of the WHL appearing in a total of 184 games, including 65 in 1974-75.

PERSONAL: Standup-type goalie, with a confident, challenging style . . . Always plays with intensity and enthusiasm . . . Pleasant personality, very popular with teammates and media . . . Handles his stick well, has recorded seven career assists . . . Wore three different uniform numbers with the Rangers 31, 1, and 33 . . . Enjoys golf and tennis during the summer . . . Married: Wife, Nancy; Daughter, Cheryl, Son, Dennis.

HOW ACQUIRED: Rangers second choice, 30th overall, in 1975 Amateur Draft. Traded to Winnipeg by Rangers for Winnipeg's third round choice (Vesa Salo) in the 1983 Entry Draft, September 8, 1981. 1985-86: Established himself as one of the premier goaltenders in the NHL after one of the most successful seasons in Ranger history . . . Named the first Ranger representative on a first NHL All-Star team since defenseman Brad Park in 1973-74 and was presented the Vezina Trophy, awarded to the goalie judged best in the league by its general managers . . . Became the winningest single-season goalie in Ranger history with 31 victories in the regular-season and eight in the playoffs surpassing the 38 chalked up by Giacomin in 1967-68, 36 in regular-season and two in playoffs . . . List of achievements also included being named a Sporting News All-Star and was the recipient of every Ranger team award at seasons' end . . . His 31 wins tied him with Bob Froese of the Flyers for NHL lead and his 3.32 average was fifth best among the league's goalies . . . Recorded three regular-season shutouts, most by a New York goalie since Wayne Thomas registered four in 1977-78 . . . Equally spectacular in the playoffs starting all 16 games and posting a 3.27 average, including a 2-0 shutout over Montreal in the fourth game of semi-final series . . . Held opponents to two or less goals in eight of his 16 playoff appearances.

CAREER: Made his Ranger debut on Dec. 5, 1981 at Colorado, a 2-1 victory over the Rockies, turning away 30 shots . . . At the time, he was just 18 years-old and still with Sault Ste. Marie of the OHL . . . After three years in junior hockey he joined the Rangers Central Hockey League affiliate, the Tulsa Oilers, and helped lead them to the league championship in 1983-84 while being selected as the league's Co-MVP . . . Promoted to Rangers on March 21, appearing in three games . . . First full season, 1984-85, saw him post a 12-24-3 record with a 4.22 average, with eight of the wins earned against Patrick Division opponents . . . Career mark with Rangers is 46-46-8, with 23 of the victories coming at the expense of Patrick Division teams.

PERSONAL: Bright, coachable, and mature, already a team leader at just 23-years-of-age . . . On the ice, he is a chatterbox, voice can often be heard above crowd shouting instructions to teammates . . . Very eventful summer, highlighted by his marriage to Rosalinde Day on June 21 in Sault Ste. Marie . . . Taught at Ron Greschner's hockey school and another school in Detroit area . . . Played in Molson Slo-pitch softball tournament and also managed to fit in a few days on the golf course . . . Fan of the Detroit Tigers.

HOW ACQUIRED: Obtained in Entry Draft, June, 1981; fifth round choice, number 72 overall.

Madison Square Garden: 'World's Most Versatile Stage'

Madison Square Garden is well into its second century as the world's most famous sports and entertainment complex.

The Garden, now at its third site and fourth building since first being named in 1879, is a multi-facility complex which includes the 20,000-seat Arena, 4,500-seat Felt Forum, spacious Exposition Rotunda and modern Bowling Center. Close to six million people annually visit the Garden to enjoy more than 600 games/shows/events.

Descended from its original, namesake site at Madison Square, 26th Street and Madison Avenue, the fourth and present Garden opened at its Pennsylvania Plaza site in 1968. The home of the New York Knicks of the National Basketball Association and New York Rangers of the National Hockey League, the Garden in also known throughout the world as the site of such diverse sports as boxing, tennis, track and field, gymnastics, wrestling, horse and dog shows, college basketball, soccer, rodeo and martial arts and for a variety of entertainment and other events including circus, ice shows, contemporary and classical concerts, international dance and performing companies, conventions, graduations and meetings, trade shows and exhibitions.

A subsidiary of Gulf+Western Inc. since 1977 and currently part of its Entertainment Group, the Garden celebrated its centennial anniversary on May 31, 1979. Among the many event highlights at the present Garden have been the 1976 and 1980 Democratic National Conventions; the special Youth in Concert visit by Pope John Paul II in 1979; the Knicks winning their first-ever NBA championship with a memorable seventh-game victory over the Los Angeles Lakers in 1970; the dramatic 1979 NHL Stanley Cup playoff semifinal series won by the Rangers over rival New York Islanders; the 1971 heavyweight "Fight of the Century" between Muhammad Ali and Joe Frazier; and soldout concerts by the Rolling Stones, Elton John, Elvis Presley, Frank Sinatra, Luciano Pavarotti, Celia Cruz, Billy Joel, Michael Jackson, Bruce Springsteen and many other contemporary music stars.

In addition, favorite annual Garden attractions include the National Horse Show, "Sesame Street Live," Nabisco Masters men's tennis championships, Ice Capades, Harlem Globetrotters, "The Muppet Show on Tour," Westminster Kennel Club Dog Show, the Virginia Slims Championships women's tennis tournament, The N.I.T. and Big East college basketball tournaments and Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus.

With Alan R. Fields as Executive Vice President of the Corporation, Madison Square Garden remains a proud, active citizen and colorful landmark of New York City, committed to continuing the rich, exciting tradition which has inspired press and performing people to proclaim the Garden as "the center of the universe," "the world's most versatile stage," "a palace of pleasure" and "not just a building but a state of mind." Perhaps the late Pulitzer Prize-winning sports journalist Red Smith best summed it up when he wrote, "Madison Square Garden is, very simply, the most famous and glamorous arena in creation."

A Brief History Of The New York Rangers

The Rangers' Official Emblem

One of the proudest and most historic franchises in the National Hockey League. That's the New York Rangers, who are embarking on their 61st season of National Hockey League play in 1986-87.

In the last few seasons, the Rangers have been able to recapture much of the glamour and glitter that marked their early years, a trend which clearly will continue this season.

Back in the 1920s annd 1930s, the Rangers were known as "the classiest team in hockey," and the description was certainly an accurate one. In fact, few sporting teams have come into existence with such a wave of success.

Under the astute managership and coaching of Lester Patrick, hockey's famed "Silver Fox," the Rangers were nearly unbeatable in those early years.

Actually, the birth of the Rangers was something of a team effort that involved Patrick, Madison Square Garden fight promoter Tex Rickard and Conn Smythe, then a successful hockey man in Toronto.

Rickard had become fascinated with hockey, and was convinced the game would be enthusiastically supported in the Garden, the world's premier sports arena that had opened its doors just a year earlier.

The team was jocularly called "Tex's Rangers," and the latter part of the name stuck.

Soon after the puck got rolling in New York, Smythe resigned and was quickly replaced by Patrick, the widely known hockey promoter and innovator who came to New York from the defunct Pacific Coast Hockey Association.

Patrick worked his magic from the very start. The Rangers were an instant smash, both on the ice and at the box office, as New Yorkers immediately took to hockey. Ranger games were the place to be in those days, and the club attracted a formal, "dinner-jacket" crowd to the games, which began at 8:45 P.M. The fans were headed by no less a personage than the Mayor of New York himself, the Honorable Jimmy Walker.

In their first 16 seasons, the Rangers missed the playoffs only once, and only twice did they fall lower than third place. New York won three regular-season championships in that span, finished second five times and third on six other occasions. They also won three Stanley Cups.

In short, the Rangers built an empire, and New Yorkers loved every minute of it.

The Original Rangers were led by the Cook brothers, Bill and Bun, and Frank Boucher, who won the Lady Byng Trophy so many times the league finally gave it to him permanently. Among the "originals," Bill Cook, Boucher, and colorful defenseman Ching Johnson all made it to the Hockey Hall of Fame.

As the "originals" started to fade out, they were replaced by another stellar group of Ranger stars. Boucher was now coaching the club, while Lester Patrick concentrated on the managerial chores.

Once again, New Yorkers had a brother combination to cheer for. This time it was Neil and Mac Colville, and Alex Shibicky was their linemate. High-scoring Bryan Hextall, fiery Phil Watson, the Patrick brothers, Lynn and Muzz, goalie Dave Kerr, and defensemen Babe Pratt and Art Coulter were all stalwarts of that era.

World War II broke up the gang of Ranger All-Stars, but despite the fall in the team's fortunes after the war, there were still many individual stars on Broadway. Chuck Rayner, Buddy O'Connor, Edgar Laprade, Hy Buller, and Bones Raleigh were standouts in the late Forties and early Fifties.

The arrival of Andy Bathgate in New York signalled another era in Ranger history. Bathgate, twice a first team All-Star, and then the holder of most Ranger scoring records, was the Rangers' superstar for almost a decade. Little Camille Henry, goalie Gump Worsley, Harry Howell, and Dean Prentice were other fans' favorites.

Some 10 years later, another star right wing heralded the Rangers' newest era. Rod Gilbert eventually eclipsed all of Bathgate's scoring records with the club, and played a decade and a half of stellar hockey in New York.

Other stars of that era included Gilbert's linemates, Jean Ratelle and Vic Hadfiled, goalie Ed Giacomin, defenseman Brad Park, and center Walt Tkaczuk.

New stars like Anders Hedberg, Ulf Nilsson, Barry Beck, Ron Greschner, Phil Esposito, John Davidson, and the Maloney brothers, Dave and Don, ushered the Rangers into a decade of the 1980s. The team dramtically marched to the Stanley Cup Finals in 1979, and showed real signs of returning to the days of past glory.

The arrival of Phil Esposito in 1986, as the team's eighth general manager in 61 years, heralds the Rangers' latest era, one that promises to be filled with success and excitement. Phil and coach Ted Sator and their respective staffs are firmly committed to just one goal: the return of the Stanley Cup to New York.

And, with new stars like John Vanbiesbrouck, Mike Ridley, James Patrick, Bob Brooke, etc. starting to emerge, who would bet against them?
